.THE VISA FUNCTION

One of the important functions of the Foreign Service of the United States is the administration abroad of our immigration laws. Congress first charged consular officers with the responsibility of issuing visas to certain aliens in the Act of July 5, 1884. In 1917, a general requirement that all aliens seeking to enter the United States obtain visas was instituted and has been continued since that time under successive immigration laws. With certain exceptions, therefore, aliens desiring to come to the United States are required to obtain appropriate visas from U.S. consular officers stationed at some 210 Foreign Service posts throughout the world.

Although consular officers are directly responsible under the law for the issuance or refusal of visas, the Department of State is charged with the general administration of the functions vested in the Foreign Service by the immigration laws. In fulfilling this responsibility, the Department's Visa Office in the Bureau of Consular Affairs prepares regulations that are published in the Federal Register; instructs consular officers regarding interpretations of law; establishes standardized procedures; provides on-the-spot guidance through regional conferences, workshops, and field trips; and furnishes advisory opinions concerning all phases of visa work. A review procedure is set in motion by consular requests for the Department's advice on material points of law, or when the Department requests a report from a consular post with a view to determining whether the action taken or proposed in a specific case is in accordance with the applicable provisions of the law. All immigrant and nonimmigrant visa processing at consular posts is now automated, thus providing visa issuing offices with a comprehensive and secure system for managing cases and determining applicant eligibility. Although the vast majority of visas are issued at overseas posts, a few categories of nonimmigrant visas may be issued or renewed by the Diplomatic Liaison Division of the Visa Office and by the U.S. Mission to the United Nations.

For many people in foreign lands, the call at the American consular office is the first personal contact with the United States. A courteous reception by an American official and fair and reasonable attention to the application for a visa serve to create an atmosphere of good will and help to promote our foreign relations.

In recent years successive Presidents have stressed the importance of facilitating international travel. At the same time, a thorough clearance process and application assessment is intended to insure that visas are provided only to individuals who are fully qualified under the law. The procedures for the issuance of visas to persons wishing to visit the United States have been kept as comprehensible as possible, and every effort is made to expedite necessary action to the extent practicable. Before a visa is issued, an applicant's written application is reviewed or the applicant is interviewed by a consular officer to determine eligibility for a visa appropriate to the purpose of the planned journey to the United States. If necessary, documentary evidence is requested to establish that the applicant intends to return to a residence abroad, does not come within any of the excludable classes, and has adequate financial resources for the proposed journey. To assist the travel of nonimmigrants, visas are issued incorporating the most liberal provisions possible with respect to validity period on the basis of reciprocity, that is, the treatment accorded by the applicant's country to U.S. citizens. Necessary clearance procedures are handled as expeditiously as possible. There is moreover a program under which certain citizens of several countries are permitted to visit the United States for up to 90 days without needing to obtain a visitor visa in advance of travel.

Applicants who are entitled to one of the immigrant classifications and who are chargeable to an oversubscribed foreign state or category are registered on waiting lists, in the order in which they have qualified, to establish a priority for consideration when visa numbers become available. The priority date for preference applicants is ordinarily that on which the petition to establish a preference was filed with the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The National Visa Center, located in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, is designed to relieve Foreign Service posts of a substantial amount of the clerical workload required to process immigrant visa applications. Immigrant visa petitions are sent directly from the Immigration and Naturalization Service to the Center for initial screening, record-keeping, and instructions to the visa applicant before being forwarded to overseas posts for further processing and visa issuance. If an applicant's priority date does not allow immediate visa availability, the petition is stored at the Center until the case priority date permits visa processing to begin.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service primarily, the Public Health Service and the Department of Labor, and other agencies to a lesser extent, share in the administration of the immigration laws. The jurisdictions of those agencies are complementary in most respects, and close liaison is maintained between and among them and the Department of State to insure a uniform interpretation of the law and to coordinate practices. Officers of the Immigration and Naturalization Service are stationed at a number of Foreign Service posts abroad to carry out more effectively certain functions that come within the Service's area of responsibility.

In preparation for their visa duties abroad, consular officers take a visa services course at the Department of State's Foreign Service Institute as part of their basic Foreign Service training. Advanced consular training for experienced officers is also offered. A correspondence course in visa work is available for officers and clerical personnel assigned to overseas posts. The Department also makes available to visa personnel worldwide frequent technology updates and training, to support maximum operational efficiency and integrity.

SUMMARY

This Report of the Visa Office is a compilation of statistical data for Fiscal Year 2001 (October 1, 2000 – September 30, 2001).

The Report includes information on all visa issuances by consular offices and on the use of visa numbers in the numerically limited categories. The sources of information for the data are workload reports from visa-issuing offices abroad and immigrant visa number allocation records maintained at the Visa Office.

The Report does not contain information on refugees or on persons granted adjustment to permanent resident status by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), except to the extent that such adjustments of status in the numerically limited categories are reflected in the tables of immigrant number use.

RECENT IMMIGRATION LEGISLATION

Extension of Employment Fourth Preference Status for Certain Religious Workers

The Religious Workers Act of 2000 (Public Law 106–409 enacted November 1, 2000) extended the Employment Fourth Preference status for certain religious workers specified in Section 101(a)(27)(C)(ii)(II) and (III) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for 3 additional years, to September 30, 2003.

Extension of Regional Investor Pilot Program Immigrant Categories

Section 610 of Public Law 102–395 enacted October 6, 1992, as amended by Section 116 of Public Law 105–119 enacted November 26, 1997, modified Section 203(b)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act by creating a 7-year pilot program which set aside up to 3,000 immigrant visas annually for aliens investing in qualifying regional centers in the United States for the promotion of economic growth (the “R5” and “I5” categories). Section 402 of the Visa Waiver Permanent Program Act (Public Law 106–396 enacted October 30, 2000) extended the program to 10 years (October 1, 1993 through September 30, 2003).

New Employment Fourth Preference Classes

Section 421(a) of the American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act, Title IV of Division C of the Act of October 21, 1998 (Public Law 105–277) created a new Employment Fourth Preference class under Section 101(a)(27)(L) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for certain retired NATO–6 civilian employees and spouse, unmarried sons or daughters of retired NATO–6 civilian employees, or surviving spouses of deceased NATO–6 civilian employees.

Public Law 106–536 enacted November 22, 2000 created a new Employment Fourth Preference class under Section 101(a)(27)(M) of the Immigration and Nationality Act for immigrants who will be employed as broadcasters by the International Broadcasting Bureau of the Broadcasting Board of Governors or by grantees of the Broadcasting Board of Governors, and accompanying spouse and children, in a number not to exceed 100 principal aliens in any fiscal year. This provision became effective October 1, 2000.

The Department of State added these new classes to the immigrant visa classification table in its rule published on June 18, 2001.

Limitation on Per-Country Ceiling with Respect to Employment-Based Immigrants

The American Competitiveness in the Twenty-First Century Act (Title I of Public Law 106–313 enacted October 17, 2000) contains several provisions intended to increase the availability of Employment-Based immigrant visa numbers. In Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000, due in part to the per-country limitation, the annual numerical limits for Employment-Based visa numbers were not reached. Section 104 of Public Law 106–313 attempts to rectify this situation in regard to the Employment-Based per-country limit by providing that if the total of Employment-Based visa numbers available for a calendar quarter is greater than the number of qualified applicants who may otherwise be issued such visa numbers, the per-country limitation on Employment-Based visa numbers will be lifted for the remainder of that quarter.

Recapture of Employment-Based Immigrant Visa Numbers Unused in Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000

Section 106(d) of Public Law 106–313 provides for the recapture of those Employment-Based numbers that were available but not used in Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000. Beginning in Fiscal Year 2001, those unused numbers (which totaled 130,107) will be made available to applicants in the Employment First, Second, and Third preference categories once the annual Employment-Based numerical limit has been reached. The total of Employment-Based preference numbers available for a fiscal year is thus increased by the total of such numbers remaining in the pool (i.e., 130,107 minus the cumulative total of such numbers actually used for previous fiscal years.) See Appendix D for totals of numbers provided annually under Section 106(d) outside the Employment-Based numerical limit, and numbers remaining in the pool for future allocation.

Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act of 2000

On December 21, 2000 the President signed into law the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act of 2000, Title XI of Public Law 106–553. Sections 1102 and 1103 of the LIFE Act add to the existing nonimmigrant categories of Section 101(a)(15) of the Immigration and Nationality Act a new V category divided into three subcategories (V–1, V–2, V–3) and two new K subcategories (K–3, K–4). The underlying purpose of this legislation is to reunite families that have been or could be subject to a lengthy period of separation during the process of immigrating to the United States. The new categories permit issuance of nonimmigrant visas to the spouse, child, and in some instances the child of the spouse or child, of a lawful permanent resident alien (V–1, V–2 and V–3 classification), and to the spouse of a U.S. citizen and the child(ren) of the spouse (K–3 and K–4 classification). The visa recipients may then apply for admission into the United States as nonimmigrants to await the completion of the immigration process with their lawful permanent resident alien or U.S. citizen family member.

A discussion of the requirements for obtaining the new V or K nonimmigrant classification is included in the “Nonimmigrant Visas” section of this Summary.

Grounds for Refusal Under the Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act

Section 212(a)(2)(H), which was added by Section 111(d), Division A (Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000) of the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Protection Act of 2000 (Public Law 106–386 enacted October 28, 2000), provides that an alien who has engaged in severe forms of trafficking in persons, or who has been a knowing aider, abettor, assister, conspirator, or colluder in severe forms of trafficking in persons, or the spouse, son or daughter (except for a child) of such an alien who within the previous 5 years has obtained any financial or other benefit from the illicit activity of that alien, is inadmissible.

IMMIGRANT VISA CATEGORIES AND NUMERICAL LIMITATIONS

See Appendix A for an outline of the categories of immigrants and the numerical limits established under the terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and Appendix B for background on the numerical limits for Fiscal Year 2001.

Numerical Limitations

During Fiscal Year 2001, 226,000 family-sponsored and 192,074 employment-based preference visas were available, for a worldwide family and employment preference limit of 418,074.

Through June 2001, employment-based preference visas were available to most applicants without a waiting period; exceptions were applicants chargeable to CHINA–mainland born and INDIA, for whom heavy visa demand in excess of the per-country annual limit set by law resulted in a visa availability cut-off date, and all applicants in the "Other (i.e., Unskilled) Worker" subgroup within Employment Third preference. In July 2001, employment-based preference visas became available to all applicants without a waiting period. All family-sponsored preference categories were oversubscribed.

The per-country limit on preference immigrants is set by the Immigration and Nationality Act at 7% of the worldwide family and employment preference limits. For Fiscal Year 2001, the per-country limit came to 29,265. The dependent area limit came to 8,361, 2% of the worldwide family and employment preference limits.

When demand for preference immigrant numbers exceeds the annual limitation set by law for a country, that country is considered oversubscribed. All oversubscribed chargeabilities are subject to the provisions of Section 202(e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which makes immigrant numbers within the per-country limitation available to each preference category in proportion to its worldwide numerical limitation. (See Appendix A, Section II.B. for breakdown.) The following chargeabilities were oversubscribed throughout Fiscal Year 2001: MEXICO and PHILIPPINES.

Diversity Immigrant (DV) Category

Section 203(c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act makes available 55,000 immigrant visas annually to persons from countries with low rates of immigration to the United States. Applicants for these visas are selected by means of an annual lottery. Congress established this category to provide more visas for Europe (the traditional source of immigration) and Africa (long underrepresented in total immigration) without restricting immigration from Asia and Latin America, from which about 80 percent of legal immigrants have come in recent years. The program also offers a chance to immigrants who do not already have close family members or employers in the United States and who thus cannot qualify for visas in other categories.

The Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA) of 1997 (Pub. L. 105-500 enacted November 19, 1997) provides that beginning with Fiscal Year 1999, and for as long as necessary, the 55,000 diversity visa numbers available for a fiscal year will be reduced by up to 5,000 annually to offset adjustments under the NACARA program. This provision resulted in the reduction of the Fiscal Year 2001 DV limit to 50,000 numbers.

Not more than 3,500 DV visas (7% of the annual visa limit) may be provided to immigrants from any one country. Under a complex formula in the law based upon statistical data concerning immigration over a 5-year period, the visas are apportioned among six geographic regions. The allotment of Fiscal Year 2001 visa numbers for each region was: Africa, 19,715; Asia, 6,056; Europe, 21,148; North America (Bahamas), 8; South America, Central America, and the Caribbean, 2,309; and Oceania, 764.

Natives of all countries except those defined as "high admission" countries are eligible to participate in the DV program. For Fiscal Year 2001, the "high admission" countries were: Canada, China (mainland and Taiwan, except Hong Kong Special Administrative Region), Colombia, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Haiti, India, Jamaica, South Korea, Mexico, Philippines, Poland, United Kingdom (except Northern Ireland) and its dependent territories, and Vietnam.

Applicants registered for the Fiscal Year 2001 DV program were selected from the approximately 11 million qualified entries received during the 1-month application period which ran from noon October 4 through noon November 3, 1999. The Department of State picked at random by computer and assigned rank order numbers to approximately 90,000 applicants. That figure anticipated that many of the registrants would not pursue their cases or might be ineligible to receive visas, and was intended to insure that all 50,000 Fiscal Year 2001 visa numbers could be used.

Entitlement to status for DV applicants registered for Fiscal Year 2001 expired at the end of the fiscal year, i.e., as of September 30, 2001. Of the visa numbers available for this category in Fiscal Year 2001, 45,450 numbers were issued.

IMMIGRANT VISAS

Immigrant Visa Workload

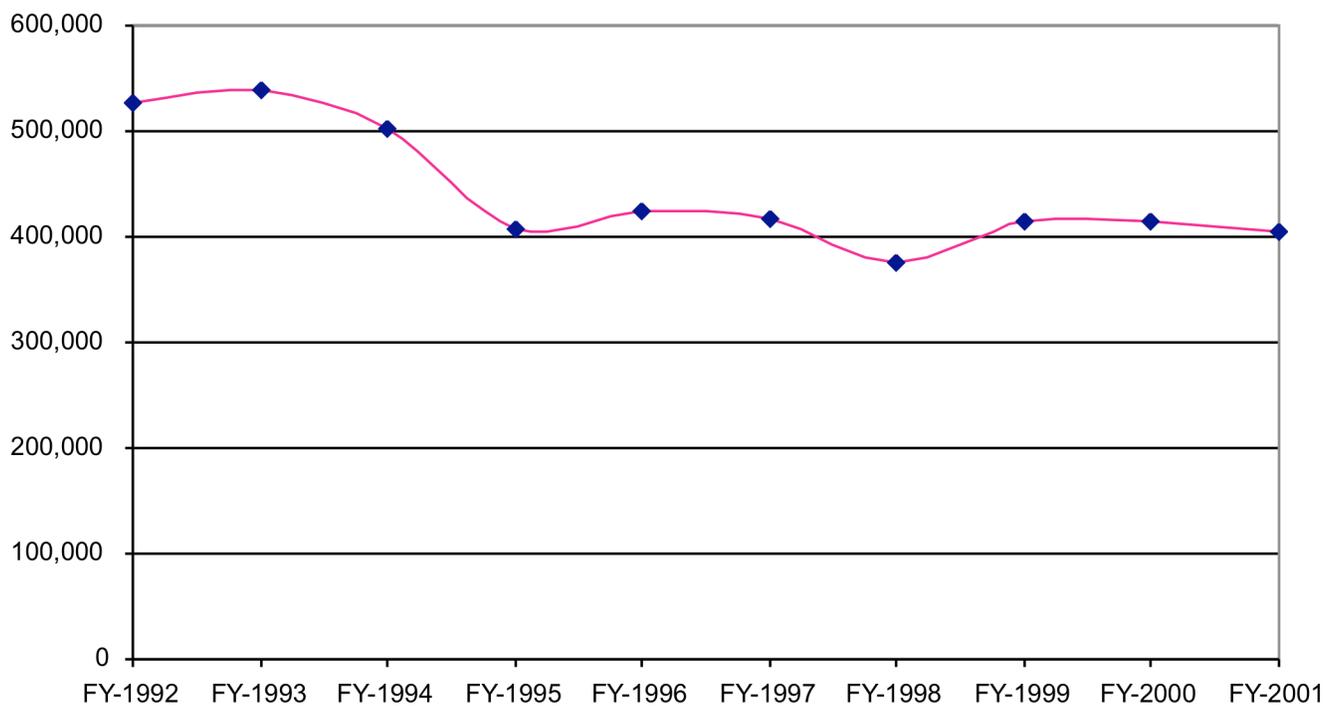

The total number of immigrant visas (including replaced visas) issued at offices abroad in Fiscal Year 2001 was 408,774. This figure is a decrease of 5,540 from the immigrant visa issuances for Fiscal Year 2000. Immediate Relative issuances were up 5.2 percent, Family-Sponsored Preference issuances decreased 19.3 percent, and Employment-Based Preference issuances were up 92.6 percent from the prior year. In the Family Preference classes, the numerical limits were lower, and the percentage of adjustments of status at Immigration and Naturalization Service offices in the United States were higher, in Fiscal Year 2001 than in Fiscal Year 2000. The resulting decline in Family Preference visa issuances more than offset the increases in Immediate Relative and Employment Preference visa issuances.

Classes of Immigrants

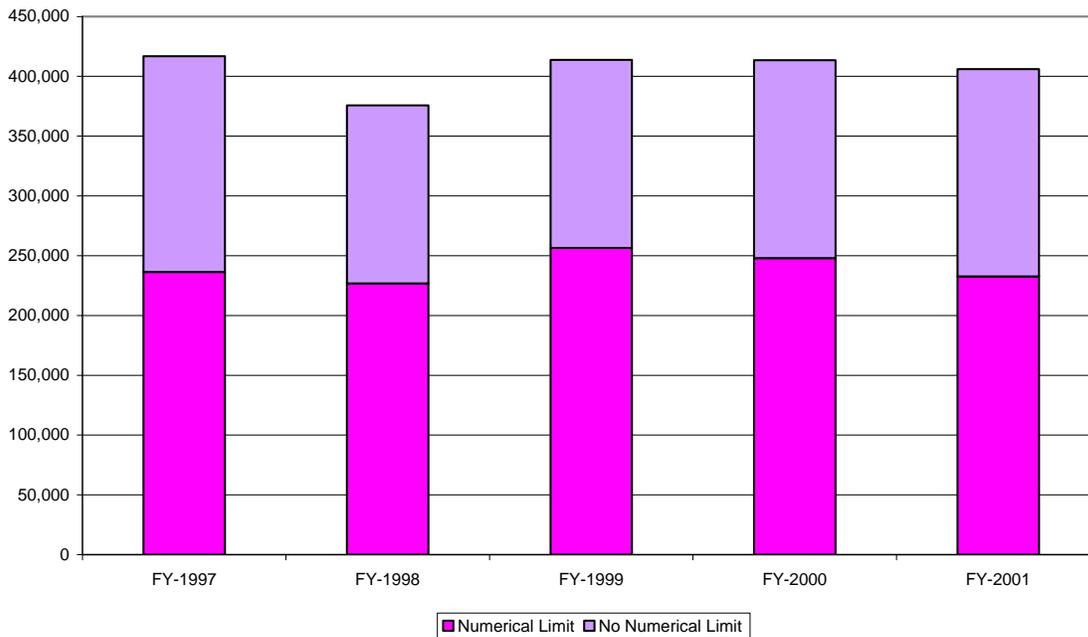

Immigrants may be divided into two broad categories: Those who are in classes subject to numerical limitations, and those in classes for which there are no numerical restrictions.

Classes Not Subject to Limitations

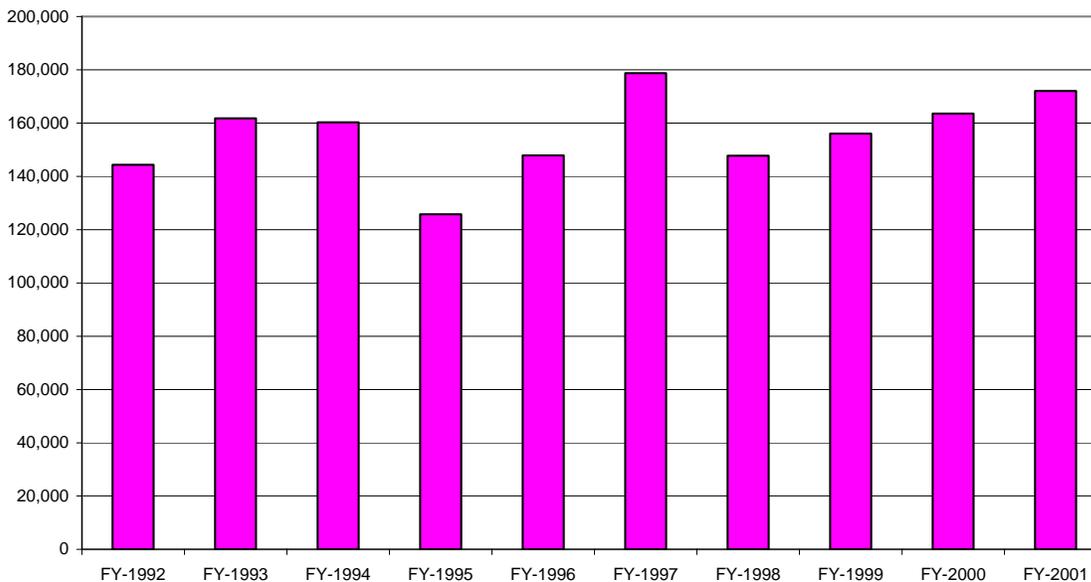

The classes not subject to numerical limitations include: "Immediate Relatives" of U.S. citizens, defined as spouse, child, orphan adopted or to be adopted, parent (if the citizen is at least 21 years of age), and certain widow(er)s and their children, and some "Special Immigrants," primarily returning resident aliens. The Vietnam Amerasian immigrant category also falls in this group.

The majority of nonlimited visas are issued to immediate relatives. During Fiscal Year 2001, the total of immediate relative visas issued at overseas posts was 172,087, an increase of 8,477 (+5.2%) from the Fiscal Year 2000 figure.

Numerically Limited Classes

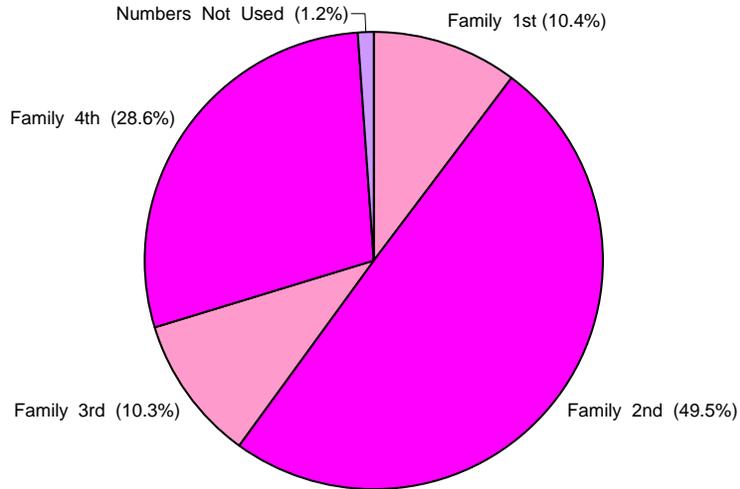

Most immigrant visas are issued to persons in the classes subject to numerical limitation. A description of these classes and numerical limits can be found in Appendix A, Section II.

For Fiscal Year 2001, visas provided at posts abroad represented 65% of the issuances in the Family preferences, 23% of the Employment preference number use, and 95% of the Diversity Immigrant category issuances. The balance were applicants for adjustment of status at offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in the United States. The overall percentage of visas in these classes provided at posts abroad decreased from Fiscal Year 2000, when such visas represented 75% of the Family preference issuances, 20% of the Employment preference number use, and 93% of the Diversity Immigrant issuances.

NONIMMIGRANT VISAS

Nonimmigrant Visa Workload

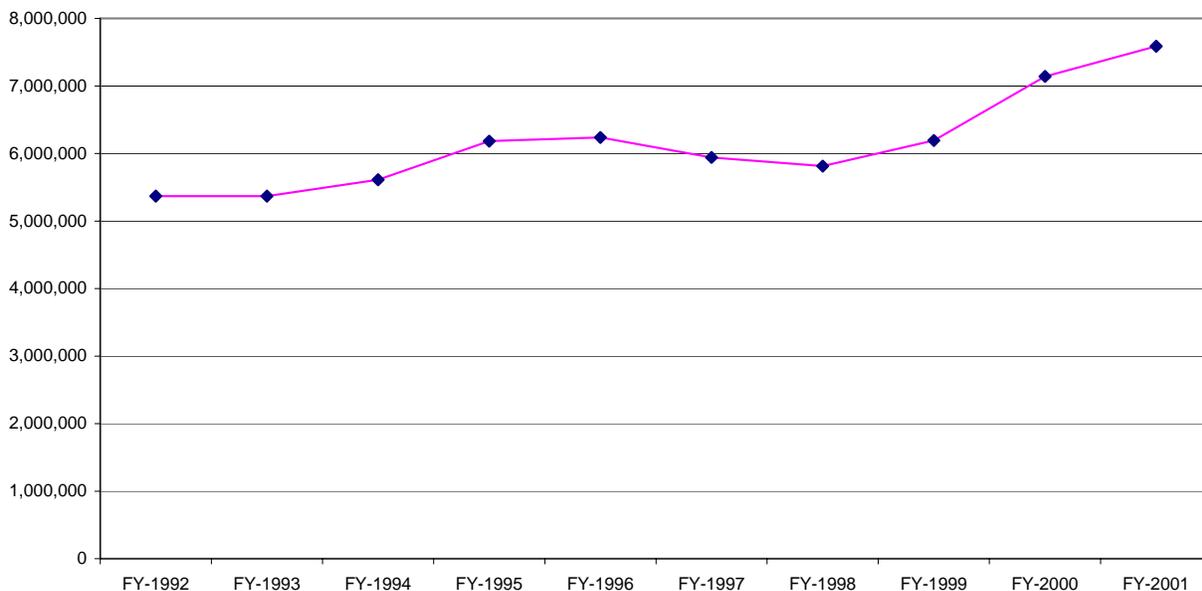

In Fiscal Year 2001, nonimmigrant visa issuances at Foreign Service posts totaled 7,588,778, an increase of 447,142 (+6.3%) from the Fiscal Year 2000 figure of 7,141,636. This increase is attributable mainly to the replacement of existing Mexican Border Crossing Cards by the new machine-readable cards with a biometric indicator mandated by Section 104 of Pub. L. 104–208. Issuances in the H (temporary worker) visa classes also increased.

Nonimmigrant visa issuances remained below the record high of 8,679,709 set in Fiscal Year 1988, a continuing reflection of the Visa Waiver Program. The Visa Waiver Program was permanently authorized by the Visa Waiver Permanent Program Act (Public Law 106–396 enacted October 30, 2000). The 29 countries in the Program during FY–2001 were Andorra, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brunei, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Monaco, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, San Marino, Singapore, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and Uruguay. Under the waiver program, citizens of the designated countries may visit the United States for up to 90 days without the need of obtaining a visitor visa. (Under separate provisions of law, visas are also not required of most Canadians and of certain other limited categories of travelers.)

Nonimmigrant issuances to nationals of North American countries were about 36.8% of the total, and visas issued to nationals of Asian countries equaled about 32.2%. Visitor (B) visas and Border Crossing Cards (BCCs) accounted for about 78.8% of the nonimmigrant visas issued, and temporary employment (E, H, I, L, O, P, Q, R, and NAFTA) visas about 7.7%. Visas issued to 10 nationalities (Mexico, South Korea, India, China (mainland and Taiwan), Brazil, Colombia, Philippines, Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and Israel) accounted for about 60.6% of the total issuances.

It should be noted that most nonimmigrant visas are valid for several years. The total of persons holding valid visas, therefore, is several times the figure for visas issued in any one year. The Department of State has made a conscious effort to authorize the maximum possible nonimmigrant visa validity for qualified applicants to reduce the need for frequent reapplication, thus helping to make worldwide nonimmigrant visa processing as efficient as possible.

Recent Legislation Regarding H Visas

Public Law 106–313 makes several changes to the H–1B annual cap and exempts certain H–1B petitions from the cap. Section 102 raised the annual cap on H–1Bs for Fiscal Years 2001, 2002, and 2003 to 195,000 per year; retroactively raised the Fiscal Year 1999 annual cap to the number of aliens actually granted H–1B status during that year; and retroactively raised the Fiscal Year 2000 cap to the number of aliens issued visas or otherwise granted status based on petitions filed before September 1, 2000. Section 103 exempts from the annual H–1B cap aliens employed (or offered employment) at an institution of higher education or a related or affiliated nonprofit entity, or a nonprofit research organization or a governmental research organization; and aliens who have already been counted against the H–1B cap within the past 6 years. Section 114 exempts from the H–1B cap aliens subject to the Section 212(e) foreign residence requirement who have been granted a waiver under Section 214(1)(1)(B).

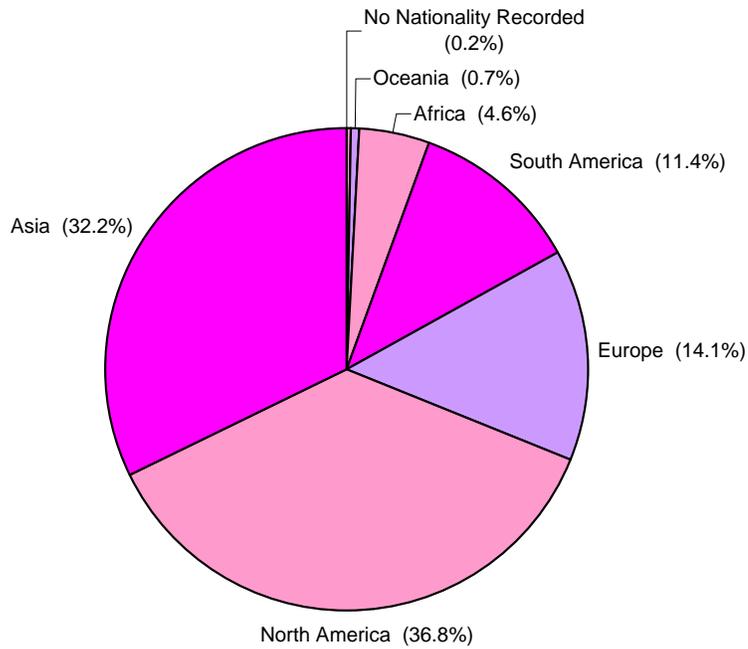

Section 101(a)(15)(H)(I)(C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which was added by Section 2(a) of the Nursing Relief for Disadvantaged Areas Act of 1999 (Public Law 106–95 enacted November 12, 1999), created a new visa class for registered nurses coming to areas in which there is a health professional shortage. The new visa class became effective on June 11, 2001, the date on which the Immigration and Naturalization Service published implementing regulations. Since this class is to remain in effect for 4 years from the date the regulations were first promulgated, the program will end by June 11, 2005.

T and U Visa Classes Added by the Victims of Violence and Trafficking Protection Act of 2000

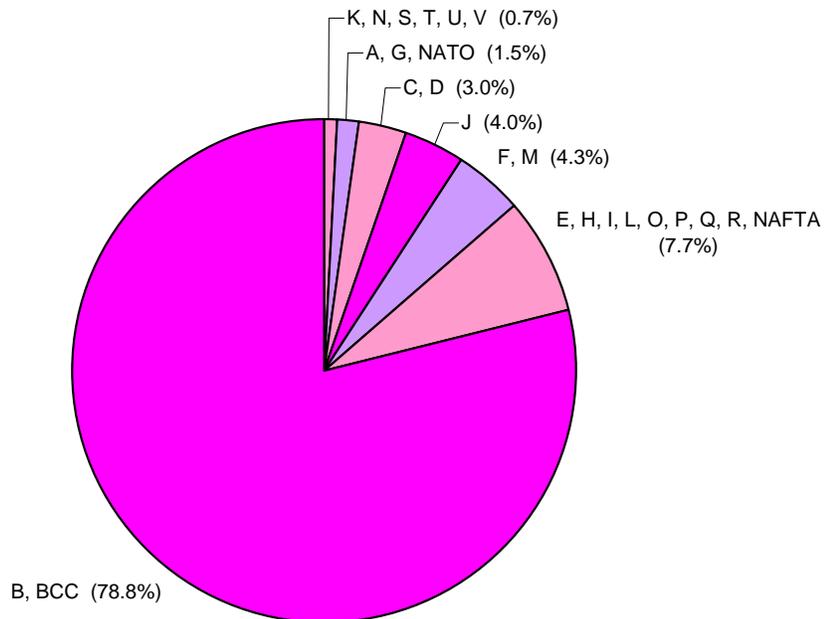

Section 101(a)(15)(T) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, added by Section 107(e)(1), Division A (Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000) of Public Law 106–386, created a new nonimmigrant status for eligible victims of severe forms of trafficking in persons who have complied with any reasonable request for assistance in the investigation or prosecution of acts of trafficking in persons, and who can demonstrate that they would suffer extreme hardship involving unusual or severe harm if they were removed from the United States. Applicants for T–1 status must be physically present in the United States at the time of application. However, the T–1 principal alien may apply to the Service for derivative T–2, T–3, or T–4 nonimmigrant status for an eligible spouse, child, or (in the case of an alien child) parent respectively who is following to join the T–1 principal.

Section 101(a)(15)(U) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, added by Section 1513(b), Title V (Battered Immigrant Women Protection Act of 2000), Division B (Violence Against Women Act of 2000) of Public Law 106–386, created a new nonimmigrant status for eligible aliens who have suffered physical or mental abuse as a result of having been victims of criminal activity, who possess information concerning criminal activity, and who are, have been, or are likely to be helpful to government officials investigating or prosecuting criminal activity. The Service may grant derivative U-2, U-3, or U-4 nonimmigrant status to an eligible spouse, child, or (in the case of an alien child) parent respectively of a U-1 principal if necessary to avoid extreme hardship, upon certification that the investigation or prosecution would be harmed without their assistance.

V Visa Classes and K-3 and K-4 Visa Classes Added by the LIFE Act

Section 101(a)(15)(V) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which was added by Section 1102, Title XI (LIFE Act) of Public Law 106-553, creates a new V nonimmigrant status for certain spouses and children of lawful permanent residents who have filed second preference (F2A) petitions in their behalf, and for their children. A spouse who qualifies for V status, a petitioned-for child, and a derivative child of either, will be classified as V-1, V-2 and V-3 respectively. In order to obtain classification as a V-1 or V-2 nonimmigrant, the alien must establish that a second preference (F2A) petition had been filed in his or her name on or before December 21, 2000 (the date the LIFE Act was enacted), and that either (1) the petition has not been acted upon after 3 years or more, or (2) if the petition has been approved, 3 years or more have passed since the petition was filed and either no visa number has become available because of the worldwide or per-country numerical limitation, or even though a number is available the alien's application for a visa or for adjustment of status remains pending. Eligible aliens may enter and work in the United States, and continue to reside here while they wait for the immigrant visa petition to be approved; their priority date to be reached for filing for adjustment of status or an application for an immigrant visa; and the adjudication of that application.

Section 1103, Title XI of Public Law 106-553 adds new subcategory K(ii) to the existing K (fiancé(e)) nonimmigrant category which has been renumbered K(i). (A fiancé(e) of a U.S. citizen and a derivative child of a fiancé(e) will continue to be designated K-1 and K-2 respectively for visa purposes.) The new K-3 visa is intended for use by a spouse of a U.S. citizen for whom a spousal immediate relative petition has been filed in the United States. The spouse's children will be designated K-4. Unlike the new V category, neither existing legislation nor the LIFE Act provides for K visa issuance to the child of a child of the spouse or the petitioner. In order to obtain classification as a K-3 nonimmigrant, the alien must demonstrate that his or her marriage to the U.S. citizen is valid, he or she is the beneficiary of an immigrant visa petition (I-130) filed to accord status as the immediate relative spouse of a U.S. citizen, that he or she is the beneficiary of an approved nonimmigrant visa petition (I-129F) to accord K-3 status, and that he or she wishes to enter the United States to await the approval of the I-130 petition or the availability of an immigrant visa. The nonimmigrant visa petition must have been filed in the United States by the U.S. citizen spouse of the applicant.

CHANGES IN REPORTING OF VISA SERVICES AT FOREIGN SERVICE POSTS

During Fiscal Year 2001, the remaining Beirut immigrant visa files, which were transferred to Embassy Abu Dhabi in Fiscal Year 1991, were integrated with and are now being reported as part of Abu Dhabi's immigrant visa workload.

CHANGES IN FOREIGN STATE CHARGEABILITY

Effective December 20, 1999, Macau was returned to Chinese administration and was designated as the Special Administrative Region of Macau. Title II (United States-Macau Policy Act of 2000) of Public Law 106-570 (Assistance for International Malaria Control Act) enacted December 27, 2000 provides that, notwithstanding any change in the exercise of sovereignty over Macau, the laws of the United States shall continue to apply with respect to Macau in the same manner as before December 20, 1999. Consequently, for purposes of immigrant visa chargeability Macau is again being treated as a dependency of Portugal.

On November 17, 2000, the United States Government established diplomatic relations with the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, recognizing it as an independent state. The former practice of using Serbia and Montenegro for the name of this entity was discontinued.

Note: See Appendices A and E for explanation of the immigrant visa categories used in this table.

In addition to the 409,920 numbers used for visa issuances or INS adjustments of status, 14 family preference numbers were charged for children admitted under INA 211(a) accompanying parents with family preference visas and 2 employment preference numbers were charged for children admitted under INA 211(a) accompanying parents with employment preference visas.

In accordance with INA 203(b)(6), the 30 special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY–2000 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) (certain U.S. armed forces personnel) were charged against the FY–2001 employment preference limit; each of the first, second and third preferences was reduced by 10. FY–2001 per-country limits were reduced by the amount specified to compensate for such immigrants: Japan 1, and Philippines 29. For the Philippines chargeability, which was subject to the prorating provisions of INA 202(e), the reduction in the per-country limit was accomplished under the law as follows: each of the employment first and second preferences was reduced by 10, and the third preference was reduced by 9.

In accordance with Section 2(d) of the Chinese Student Protection Act of 1992 (Pub. L. 102–404), beginning with FY–1993, the China–mainland born limit will be reduced by 1,000 per fiscal year to compensate for issuances under that legislation.

Numbers assigned to issued visas that are not used are recaptured in accordance with Section 206 of the INA and can be used again for the issuance of other visas. Therefore, the total number of visas issued and adjustments of status may exceed a specified limitation.

For number use in the Diversity (DV) category, see Table VII.

¹ Effective December 20, 1999, Macau was returned to Chinese administration and was designated as the Special Administration Region of Macau. Title II (United States-Macau Policy Act of 2000) of Pub. L. 106–570 (Assistance for International Malaria Control Act) enacted December 27, 2000 provides that, notwithstanding any change in the exercise of sovereignty over Macau, the laws of the United States shall continue to apply with respect to Macau in the same manner as before December 20, 1999.

² On November 17, 2000, the United States Government established diplomatic relations with the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, recognizing it as an independent state. The former practice of using Serbia and Montenegro for the name of this entity was discontinued.

In addition to the 189,333 immigrant visas issued in the preference categories, 7 visas were issued during FY–2001 in the "SM" special immigrant category (certain U.S. armed forces personnel and their families); the foreign state breakdown of such issuances is: Japan 1, Philippines 6.

¹ Effective December 20, 1999, Macau was returned to Chinese administration and was designated as the Special Administrative Region of Macau. Title II (United States-Macau Policy Act of 2000) of Pub. L. 106–570 (Assistance for International Malaria Control Act) enacted December 27, 2000 provides that, notwithstanding any change in the exercise of sovereignty over Macau, the laws of the United States shall continue to apply with respect to Macau in the same manner as before December 20, 1999.

² On November 17, 2000, the United States Government established diplomatic relations with the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, recognizing it as an independent state. The former practice of using Serbia and Montenegro for the name of this entity was discontinued.

Immigrant Number Use for Visa Issuances and Adjustments of Status
Fiscal Years 1995 – 2001

Note: Numbers assigned to issued visas that are not used are recaptured in accordance with Section 206 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and can be used again for the issuance of other visas. Therefore, the total of visas issued and adjustments of status may exceed a specified numerical limitation.

- ¹ In accordance with Section 203(c)(1)(F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, for purposes of administering the diversity program, Northern Ireland is treated as a separate foreign state.
- ² Poland did not qualify for the FY–1998 through FY–2001 Diversity Visa Programs.
- ³ Macau ceased to qualify for the FY–2000 Diversity Visa Program on December 20, 1999, the date on which Macau was returned to Chinese administration and was designated as the Special Administrative Region of Macau. Title II (United States-Macau Policy Act of 2000) of Pub. L. 106–570 (Assistance for International Malaria Control Act) enacted December 27, 2000 provides that, notwithstanding any change in the exercise of sovereignty over Macau, the laws of the United States shall continue to apply with respect to Macau in the same manner as before December 20, 1999.
- ⁴ On November 17, 2000, the United States Government established diplomatic relations with the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, recognizing it as an independent state. The former practice of using Serbia and Montenegro for the name of this entity was discontinued.
- ⁵ Colombia did not qualify for the FY–1996 through FY–2001 Diversity Visa Programs. Diversity Visa numbers were allocated during FY–1997 pursuant to Section 637 of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (Pub. L. 104–208) for 2 applicants chargeable to Colombia to permit adjustment of status applications initially filed during FY–1995 to be completed.
- ⁶ Haiti did not qualify for the FY–2000 or FY–2001 Diversity Visa Programs.

* Section 203(c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act provides a maximum of 55,000 immigrant visas each fiscal year to permit immigration opportunities for persons from countries other than the principal sources of current immigration to the United States. The Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA) of 1997 (Pub. L. 105–500 enacted November 19, 1997) provides that beginning with Fiscal Year 1999, and for as long as necessary, the 55,000 diversity visa numbers available for a fiscal year will be reduced by up to 5,000 annually to offset adjustments under the NACARA program. This provision resulted in the reduction of the FY–2000 and FY–2001 diversity visa limits to 50,000 numbers.

The figures at the end of this table show totals of applications refused and refusals overcome. The total of applications refused does not necessarily reflect the number of persons refused during the year. One applicant can apply and be found ineligible more than one time in a fiscal year.

(by Grounds for Refusal Under the Immigration and Nationality Act)
Fiscal Year 2001

At some posts with automated visa systems, the data base does not reflect complete nonimmigrant visa refusals overcome statistics. Therefore, the nonimmigrant visa refusals overcome figures may be somewhat understated.

- ¹ The total grounds of ineligibility may exceed the number of applications refused because one applicant may be found ineligible under more than one section of the Immigration and Nationality Act.
- ² The total ineligibilities overcome may not necessarily represent the same visa applicants found ineligible and recorded in the total of ineligibility findings. A visa may be refused in one fiscal year and the refusal overcome in a subsequent fiscal year. Each action will be separately recorded as part of the appropriate statistical report for the year in which it occurred. A refusal can be overcome by evidence that the ineligibility does not apply, by approval of a waiver, or by other relief as provided by law.
- ³ N/A - Not applicable because the cited ground of ineligibility does not apply to nonimmigrants.
- ⁴ N/A - Not applicable because the cited ground of ineligibility does not apply to immigrants.

Provisions of the Law and Numerical Limitations on Immigrant Visas

Some form of numerical limitation has been imposed on immigration into the United States since 1921, although certain classes of immigrants have traditionally been able to obtain visas outside those limitations. The Immigration Act of 1990 (Pub. L. 101-649) modified this concept by establishing an overall limit within which immediate relatives (IR's) and certain special immigrants would continue exempt from the requirement of an available visa number, but the IR total would be deducted from the overall ceiling for the calculation of the family-sponsored preference ceiling during the following year. Outlined below are the basic elements of the system applicable at present; unless otherwise stated, the section of law cited refers to the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), as amended.

I. Classes not subject to the numerical limitations

A. Immediate Relatives

- (1) Spouse and children of U.S. citizens and parents of citizens at least 21 years of age (Sec. 201(b)(2)(A)(i)).
- (2) Certain surviving spouses of deceased U.S. citizens, and their children (Sec. 201(b)(2)(A)(i)).

B. Special Immigrants

- (1) Returning residents (Secs. 101(a)(27)(A) and 201(b)(1)(A)).
- (2) Certain former U.S. citizens (Secs. 101(a)(27)(B) and 201(b)(1)(A)).

C. Others

- (1) Child born abroad subsequent to issuance of immediate relative visa to parent (Secs. 211(a) and 201(b)(2)(A)(ii)).
- (2) Child born to a lawful permanent resident temporarily abroad (Secs. 211(a) and 201(b)(2)(B)).
- (3) Vietnam Amerasians, a category created by Sec. 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1988 (as contained in Sec. 101(e) of Pub. L. 100-202, as amended) for Vietnam Amerasians and their immediate family members. Initially time-limited to March 1990, the provision was made permanent by Pub. L. 101-513.

II. Numerically limited classes

A. Numerical Limits under Secs. 201, 202, and 203

As a selective mechanism to enable distribution of the numbers to the immigrants desired, a preference system commingling certain classes of relatives and needed workers has long existed. The Immigration Act of 1990 divided such preference classes into two broad categories: family-sponsored immigrants and employment-based immigrants, with a separate numerical limitation for each category.

(1) Worldwide Limits

(a) Family-Sponsored Preference Limitation:

The overall ceiling for relatives is 480,000, from which the previous year's total of immediate relatives and other family classes which are exempt from the numerical ceiling (see I.A. and I.C.(1) and (2) above) are deducted to determine the level of family-based preference immigration. Beginning with FY-1999, aliens described in Sec. 201(c)(4) who were paroled into the United States under Sec. 212(d)(5) in the second preceding fiscal year are also deducted from the overall ceiling. Although the difference could be greater or less than 226,000, that figure is established as a minimum for the family-sponsored preference immigrant limitation.

Specifically, if such family-related numerically-exempt immigrants and parolees are fewer than 254,000, the family-sponsored preferences will be entitled to more than 226,000 in the following fiscal year. On the other hand, if such family-related numerically-exempt immigrants and parolees exceed 254,000, the family-sponsored preferences are still provided at least 226,000 numbers by virtue of the minimum annual limit assured by Sec. 201(c).

(b) Employment-Based Preference Limitation:

The overall ceiling for this category is 140,000. The term "employment-based" is broadly interpreted to encompass most non-family immigration, whether or not the immigrant is actually destined to employment in the United States.

(c) Carry-Over of Unused Numbers:

Certain preference immigrant numbers which are unused during a fiscal year are added to the worldwide levels of family-sponsored and employment-based preference immigrants for the following fiscal year (Sec. 201(c) and Sec. 201(d)). Unused family numbers from the previous fiscal year are added to the employment preference limit and vice versa.

See Appendix D regarding the recapture of employment-based preference numbers unused in Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000, under the terms of the American Competitiveness in the Twenty-First Century Act (Title I of Pub. L. 106–313 enacted October 17, 2000).

(2) Per-Country Limits

In addition to the overall limits, the INA contains a per-country ceiling to preclude preemption of the annual numbers by one or more foreign states of heavy emigration. Under the formula in Sec. 202(a), the per-country limit is 7% of the combined visa total available to family-sponsored and employment-based preference immigrants, i.e., at least 25,620. The dependent area limit is set at 2%, or a minimum of 7,320.

Sec. 202(a)(5)(A) (which was added by Sec. 104 of Pub. L. 106–313) provides that if the total of employment-based visa numbers available for a calendar quarter is greater than the number of qualified applicants who may otherwise be issued such visa numbers, the per-country limitation on employment-based visa numbers will be lifted for the remainder of that quarter.

For the permanent diversity classification which became effective in FY–1995, there is a separate 7% per-country visa limit. (See II.B.(3) below.)

B. Preference classes as set forth in Sec. 203

Class limitations are expressed in absolute numbers for the family-sponsored immigrants and in percentages of the annual limitation for the employment-based category specified in Sec. 201.

(1) Family-sponsored:

(a) First preference: Unmarried sons and/or daughters (i.e., offspring aged 21 or older) of U.S. citizens: not more than 23,400, plus any numbers unused by the fourth preference (Sec. 203(a)(1)).

(b) Second preference: (A) Spouses and children of lawful permanent residents, and (B) unmarried sons and/or daughters of lawful permanent residents: not more than 114,200, plus the number (if any) by which the worldwide family preference level exceeds 226,000, plus any numbers not required for the first preference; of which 77% are designated for sub-category (A) (Sec. 203(a)(2)).

Sec. 202(a)(4)(A) provides that of the visa numbers made available for sub-category (A), 75% are to be issued without regard to the per-country limit, i.e., to applicants with the earliest priority date regardless of their country of chargeability.

(c) Third preference: Married sons and daughters of U.S. citizens: not more than 23,400, plus any numbers not required by the first and second preferences (Sec. 203(a)(3)).

(d) Fourth preference: Siblings of U.S. citizens who are at least 21 years of age: not more than 65,000, plus any numbers not required by the first three classes (Sec. 203(a)(4)).

(2) Employment-based:

(a) First preference: Priority workers (persons with extraordinary ability, outstanding professors and researchers, and certain multinational executives and managers): not more than 28.6% of the employment-based total, plus any visa numbers not required by the fourth and fifth preferences (Sec. 203(b)(1)).

(b) Second preference: Members of the professions with advanced degrees and persons of exceptional ability: not more than 28.6%, plus any numbers unused by the first preference (Sec. 203(b)(2)).

(c) Third preference: Skilled workers, professionals (without advanced degrees), and other (i.e., unskilled) workers: not more than 28.6%, plus any numbers unused by the first two preferences, of which not more than 10,000 numbers are available for unskilled workers (Sec. 203(b)(3)).

(d) Fourth preference: Special immigrants (other than returning residents and certain former U.S. citizens – see I.B. above): not more than 7.1%, of which not more than 5,000 numbers may be allocated for certain religious workers. There is no "fall-down" of numbers from higher classes into this class; the limit is absolute. The class includes certain international broadcasters, ministers of religion, certain employees/retirees of the U.S. Government abroad, Panama Canal and/or Zone employees, certain doctors, certain international organizations-related and NATO-6 related aliens, aliens dependent on a juvenile court, and certain members of the U.S. Armed Forces recruited abroad. There is also a time-limited inclusion of certain religious workers other than ministers. (Secs. 101(a)(27)(C) through (M) and Sec. 203(b)(4).)

Under the terms of the Armed Forces Immigration Adjustment Act of 1991 (Pub. L. 102-110 enacted October 1, 1991), immigrant visas made available to the special immigrant class for certain Armed Forces members under Sec. 101(a)(27)(K) are not counted against the numerical limitation in the year involved. In the succeeding fiscal year, the Employment Preference limits for the First, Second, and Third Preferences are each reduced by one-third the number of such visas made available, and the per-country level under Sec. 202(a) is reduced by the number of such visas made available to natives of a foreign state. (Sec. 203(b)(6).)

- (e) Fifth preference: Employment creators, i.e., aliens whose investments will create employment for at least 10 U.S. citizens and/or lawful permanent residents: not more than 7.1%, of which not less than 3,000 are reserved for investors in a targeted rural or high-unemployment area; there is no "fall-down" of numbers from the higher classes (Sec. 203(b)(5)). Sec. 610 of the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1993 (Pub. L. 102-395 enacted October 6, 1992), as amended by Sec. 116 of the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998 (Pub. L. 105-119 enacted November 26, 1997) and Sec. 402 of the Visa Waiver Permanent Program Act (Pub. L. 106-396 enacted October 30, 2000), modifies INA 203(b)(5) by creating a 10-year pilot program that sets aside up to 3,000 immigrant visas annually for aliens investing in certain qualifying regional centers in the United States.

(3) Diversity immigrants:

This classification became effective as of FY-1995. It is designed to provide immigration opportunities for aliens from foreign states from which immigration levels are low relative to the level from other countries. Applicants for each year's visas are selected at random from the entrants in an annual visa lottery (Sec. 203(c) and Sec. 204(a)(1)(G)). The annual limitation is 55,000. The Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA) of 1997 (Pub. L. 105-100 enacted November 19, 1997) provides that, beginning with Fiscal Year 1999, and for as long as necessary, the 55,000 diversity visa numbers available for a fiscal year will be reduced by up to 5,000 annually to offset adjustments under the NACARA program.

III. Related Provisions

- A. The applicability of the labor certification requirement (Sec. 212(a)(5)(A)) for immigrants is explicitly restricted to aliens in the employment-based second and third preferences. The Attorney General is authorized to waive the job offer requirement in certain second preference cases, however; the labor certification is also waived, by regulation, in those cases as a matter of practicality.
- B. A spouse or child accompanying or following to join a preference immigrant (whether family-sponsored or employment-based) is entitled to the same classification and priority date as the principal alien if not otherwise entitled to an immigrant classification and the immediate issuance of a visa. The spouse or child of a diversity immigrant is entitled to a similar derivative visa status during the year for which the principal is selected in the visa lottery. (Sec. 203(d).)
- C. The Marriage Fraud Amendments of 1986 (Pub. L. 89-639, November 10, 1986) established a conditional immigration status for aliens whose entitlement to an immigrant classification derived from a marriage entered into less than 2 years prior to admission. This provision affects not only the spouse of such marriage but also any sons or daughters. The conditionality may be removed only by approval of a petition filed during the 90-day period prior to the second anniversary of acquiring conditional status. (Sec. 216.)
- D. An alien may adjust status from nonimmigrant to lawful permanent resident, subject to certain conditions, through the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). Unless the adjustment is in a numerically-exempt category, it is charged against all appropriate limitations. (Sec. 245.)

Appendix B

Various Determinations of Numerical Limits on Immigrants Required Under the Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act

Determination of the Family Preference Numerical Limit for FY-2001

Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

INA 201(c) specifies that the worldwide level of family-sponsored preference immigrants for a fiscal year is equal to:

480,000,
minus	the number of immigrants described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of INA 201(b)(2) who, in the previous fiscal year, were issued immigrant visas or who otherwise acquired lawful permanent resident status, ¹
minus	the number of aliens described in INA 201(c)(4), ²
plus	employment preference immigrant numbers that were unused during the previous fiscal year.

Under INA 201, however, the family-sponsored preference limitation for any fiscal year may not be less than 226,000.

Immediate Relative Immigrant Totals for FY-2000:

Immigrant visa workload reports received by the Department of State from consular posts worldwide show that during FY-2000 a total of 163,610 immediate relative (IR) visas were issued. This total is subject to a net reduction of 22, however, to take account of issued visas returned unused to consular offices and thus "recaptured" under INA 206.

Figures on adjustments of status at local offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service compiled and provided by INS Headquarters indicate that a total of 188,404 immigrants were granted lawful permanent residence at INS offices in the United States during FY-2000 in the categories for spouses, children, and parents of U.S. citizens; this figure includes persons who acquired permanent residence after having been admitted in nonimmigrant "K" (fiancé(e)) status. Another 10 children accompanying immediate relative parents were admitted under INA 211(a).

INS admission figures record 1,009 children accorded permanent resident status after birth abroad to a permanent resident of the United States.

Employment Preference Number Use for FY-2000:

The employment-based preference limit for FY-2000 was 142,299. A total of 111,166 of these numbers were used for FY-2000 visa issuances or INS adjustments of status and, as required by INA 203(b)(6), an additional 31 were applied to special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY-1999 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) [certain U.S. armed forces personnel]. Another 10 were charged for children admitted under INA 211(a) accompanying parents with employment preference visas. There were also 6 employment preference visas returned unused to consular offices; the numbers assigned to these issuances were thus "recaptured" under INA 206. Total unused numbers: $142,299 - (111,166 + 10) - 31 + 6 = 31,098$.

Calculation of FY-2001 Family-Sponsored Preference Limitation:

Immediate relative visa issuances during FY-2000:	163,610
(minus net total of "recaptured" FY-2000 IR visas:	- 22)
Immediate relative adjustments of status by INS:	+ 188,404
Children admitted after birth to immediate relative visa holders:	+ 10
Children admitted after birth abroad to lawful permanent residents:	+ 1,009
Immediate Relative etc. Total:	353,011

FY-2001 Worldwide Family-Sponsored Level figure:	480,000
minus IR etc. total calculated above:	-353,011
minus aliens paroled into the United States under Section 212(d)(5) in the second preceding fiscal year (FY-1999):	- n/a ²
plus unused FY-2000 employment pref. numbers:	+ 31,098
Total	158,087

Since under the law the family-sponsored preference limitation for any fiscal year may not be less than 226,000, the limit for FY-2001 is fixed at: 226,000

Determination of the Employment Preference Numerical Limit for FY-2001

Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

INA 201(d) specifies that the worldwide level of employment-based preference immigrants for a fiscal year is equal to:

140,000
plus family preference immigrant numbers that were unused during the previous fiscal year.

Family Preference Number Use for FY-2000:

The family-sponsored preference limit for FY-2000 was 294,601. A total of 242,539 numbers were used for visa issuances or INS adjustments of status. Another 18 were charged for children admitted under INA 211(a) accompanying parents with family preference visas. There were also 30 family preference visas returned unused to consular offices; the numbers assigned to these issuances were thus "recaptured" under INA 206 and could be reallocated. Total unused numbers: $294,601 - (242,539 + 18) + 30 = 52,074$.

Calculation of FY-2001 Employment-Based Preference Limitation:

Worldwide Employment-Based Level figure:	140,000
plus unused FY-2000 family preference numbers:	+ 52,074
Total:	192,074

For FY-2001, the employment-based preference limit is fixed at: 192,074

(In accordance with INA 203(b)(6), the 30 special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY-2000 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) [certain U.S. armed forces personnel] will be charged against the FY-2001 employment preference limit; each of the first, second, and third preferences will be reduced by 10.)

Determination of Per-Country Limitations for FY-2001

Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

INA 202(a) specifies that the per-country level of family plus employment preference immigrants in any fiscal year may not exceed:

For a foreign state: 7% of the total number of family and employment visas for that fiscal year; and
For a dependent area: 2% of the total number of family and employment visas for that fiscal year.

Calculation of FY–2001 Per-Country Limits:

Worldwide Family-Sponsored FY–2001 limit:	226,000
Worldwide Employment-Based FY–2001 limit:	+ 192,074
Total:	418,074
Foreign state limit for FY–2001 (7% of 418,074):	29,265
Dependent area limit for FY–2001 (2% of 418,074):	8,361

In accordance with Section 2(d) of the Chinese Student Protection Act of 1992 (Pub. L. 102–404), the CHINA—mainland born limit for FY–2001 is reduced by 1,000 to 28,265, to compensate for earlier issuances under that legislation. [See also Appendix C.]

Under the terms of INA 203(b)(6), FY–2001 per-country limits must be reduced to compensate for the special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY–2000 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) [certain U.S. armed forces personnel]. The following FY–2001 per-country limits will be reduced by the amount specified to compensate for such immigrants: Japan 1; and Philippines 29. Since the Philippines chargeability is subject to the prorating provisions of INA 202(e), the reduction in that per-country limit will be accomplished under the law as follows: Each of the employment first and second preferences will be reduced by 10, and the third preference will be reduced by 9.

¹ The immigrants described in these subparagraphs are 1) immediate relatives, i.e., spouses, children and parents of U.S. citizens, 2) children admitted under INA 211(a) on the basis of prior issuance of an immigrant visa to their accompanying parent who is such immediate relative, and 3) children born to a lawful permanent resident during a temporary visit abroad.

² At the time the numerical limits were set, a memorandum from the Immigration and Naturalization Service advised that information on the exact number of parolees was not available. These data would not have had any effect on the determination of the FY–2001 limit, however.

Appendix C

Offset in the Per-Country Numerical Level for China—Mainland Born Immigrant Visas (Per Section 2(d) of Pub. L. 102–404)

The Chinese Student Protection Act of 1992 (CSPA) (Pub. L. 102–404 enacted October 9, 1992) provides a basis for certain People's Republic of China nationals already living in the United States to obtain permanent residence through application to INS. Beneficiaries of this legislation are accorded status within the skilled worker component of the Employment Third preference and are subject to the worldwide Employment Preference annual limit. They are exempted from the INA 202 per-country limit, however. The CSPA requires that beginning with Fiscal Year 1993, the CHINA—mainland born per-country limit must be reduced by 1,000 numbers annually to compensate for cases processed under this legislation.

Recapture of Employment-Based Preference Immigrant Visa Numbers Unused in Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000 (Per Section 106(d) of Pub. L. 106–313)

In Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000, the annual numerical limits for Employment-Based immigrant visa numbers were not reached. The American Competitiveness in the Twenty-First Century Act (Pub. L. 106–313 enacted October 17, 2000) recaptures those Employment-Based numbers that were available but not used in Fiscal Years 1999 and 2000. Beginning in Fiscal Year 2001, those unused numbers (which totaled 130,107) are made available to applicants in the Employment First, Second, and Third preference categories once the annual Employment-Based numerical limit has been reached. The total of Employment-Based preference numbers available for a fiscal year is thus increased by the total of such numbers remaining in the pool (i.e., 130,107 minus the cumulative total of such numbers actually used for previous fiscal years).

Employment-Based Preference immigrant numbers unused under the annual numerical limit:

Fiscal Year	Employment-Based Preference Limit	Minus Numbers Used	UNUSED Numbers
2001	192,074	186,536	5,538
